

APEC Basketball FAQ's

What does the camp offer?

Our basketball training camps are skill development camps to improve elements like ball handling, shooting, defence, passing and overall game situational performance. Those learned skills are then applied to guided scrimmages to balance skill work and game play.

What is skill level requirement?

Our camps are ideal for players of all skill levels. Groups are divided by age and skill level, which are flexible and allow for shifts to find the best for each camper. We offer personalised instruction that allows campers to improve specifically in the areas they need, whether they are new to the game or highly skilled.

How many campers attend a camp?

The number of campers admitted a week is 180 per week. Whenever you come or whatever sport you play, you will always receive small-group training from expert coaches with ultra-personalized instruction available through our optional private training 'Gamechanger' program. Please contact us for more detail based on which week you are considering attending a camp.

Will I play games while I'm here?

Our camps are focused specifically on skill training and implementing those acquired skills into game play. All our camps offer intra-camp scrimmaging and on the last day we will pick a group of 20 elite players who have expressed our coaching staff to play against some professional players or amongst each other in a officiated game showcasing their skills in front of our NBA guests.

How much does a camp cost?

Camps £475 which admits you for all 5 days of camp! On each camp page, we have a Program & Pricing section that will give you real time pricing information. You can select/de-select options and watch the price change. You can also go directly to registration by clicking here. Lastly, you can chat directly with our support staff by clicking the chat tool (red box on the right side of our site)!
